

WHK Camerons Update

Just before Christmas 2007 WHK Camerons and a sister WHK firm (WHK Rutherfords) merged into 1 firm. This merger is an exciting venture for all of our staff & clients as it enables us to pull resources from a broader area in order to best provide our clients with Total Financial Solutions.

The merged firm is made up of 13 offices and over 210 staff. All of these staff have remained in their local office & each office remains business as usual. The access we now have to quality technical expertise is even better than before for both firms. Our 13 offices stretch from Wialda down to Walcha, then over to Coffs Harbour & up to Byron Bay.

Some common questions about our firm...

So you are not just an accounting firm?

That's right. The services we provide include the usual compliance and taxation for individuals and business, Financial Planning and Self Managed Superannuation. In addition to these traditional services we also enjoy being able to provide services such as Strategic Planning for businesses, Estate & Succession Planning for businesses & families alike, Forensic Accounting services as well as specialised Tax advice & strategy. We consider our client's situation and plan for their future. Regulation and legislation is constantly evolving and we are able to assist our clients to adapt and prosper during these changes.

Where did the 'WHK' come from?

In January 2000 we joined WHK Group which is a publicly listed Australian company. The group includes accounting and financial service businesses, with over 2,500 staff located throughout 6 Australian States and the North and South Islands of New Zealand.

For our clients it means locally based professionals with the backing of a national group. Our financial advice is not affiliated with a bank or insurance company so our clients know that we are making recommendations based on what is best for their needs. For our staff, being part of the WHK Group means access to quality training and development, as well as excellent opportunities to build their career, while being able to enjoy the many benefits of living in a regional town.

How many staff do you employ?

Across the 13 offices we employ over 210 staff, including 60 in Armidale. We support our staff with flexible working hours and the opportunity to complete further study. Having a number of colleagues with different skills is a great support whilst this study is being undertaken. With Armidale being a University town, we also have a specific employment program for school leavers who would like to combine their study at the University of New England with employment. We have some young and enthusiastic team members working for us, who together with the more experienced staff members will continue to take our business forward.

New Building

Our Armidale staff have now relocated to a new custom-built building in 90 Rusden St. The move was part of our wider plan to provide our staff with the best of working environments. Within 6 months we were able to plan the space and have the building completed for us to move into. We are now enjoying a purpose-built office space that allows great interaction between the various staff and departments and in turn allows us to welcome our clients and visitors.
